Albert DeCiccio, Ph.D., Academic Dean,

Jennifer Ferguson[§] and Donna Page[†], The Regina Library, Rivier College

On April 23, 2007, members of the College community celebrated faculty research, scholarship, and creative accomplishments through a series of events. The Academic Dean's meeting was dedicated to the Interdisciplinary Studies Colloquium. Professor of English Dr. Sharon Dean presented "In Search of the Techno-Garden: Nineteenth Century Garden Science and American Literature." Dr. Susan Barbaro, Assistant Professor of Biology, and Dr. Marjorie Marcoux Faiia, Professor of Sociology, responded.

The meeting was followed by a reception in Regina Library, displaying recent faculty works. The display included artwork, journal articles, textbooks, and multimedia presentations. Academic Dean Al DeCiccio thanked those who contributed works. "It's important that you all cultivate the life of the mind and encourage your students to do so, through your example," he said.

Jennifer Ferguson, Reference Librarian, and Donna Page, Assistant Director for User Services, hosted the event, collected faculty contributions and assembled the display. Jennifer compiled the 2006 Contributor List and distributed copies. ■
