

FOOTBALL

Jeff Wyman*

M. A. Writing and Literature Program, Rivier College

Who needs
a cost-of-living raise when there is
high school football
to be played
and your employer
buys helmets for kids
whose parents are unprotected quarterbacks sacked by corporate linebackers intent on intercepting the ball?

* JEFF WYMAN is a Master of Writing and Literature candidate at Rivier College. His poetry has been published in a forthcoming issue of Breadcrumb Scabs magazine. In addition to writing, he enjoys drinking coffee, pacing around his apartment, and going to the beach during Nor'easters.
