

RADAR SWEEPS

Ronald McClure*
Professor of Art, Rivier College

Radar Sweeps. © Mixed media image.

Ronnie McClure Artist's Statement

In my mixed media images I combine photographs of objects from reality with expressions of my inner vision through painted pixels and colored pencil. I attempt to connect the visible and invisible worlds primarily in landscapes whose objects and structures symbolize the human relationship to nature, nature being one place where I envision the presence of God clearly yet at the same time mysteriously manifested. It is my hope that I am helping others either to discover or nurture a faith through art, or more broadly to become transformed by art in some positively significant way. See more of my work at www.exhilarationimages.com.