

RIVIER EXPANDS BOARD OF TRUSTEES WITH EXPERTISE IN LITERARY AND SECURITY SCIENCES

(From Rivier Today, Spring 2019)

The University has appointed two new members to its Board of Trustees: Dr. Reginald A. Wilburn of Dover, New Hampshire, and Mr. Daniel Sauvageau, MBA '95G of Windham, New Hampshire.

“Their unique knowledge augments the depth and breadth of our leadership team, informing and aiding the University in this critical period of expansion,” says Sister Paula Marie Buley, IHM, Rivier’s President.

Safeguarding data and personnel for Fidelity Investments, Sauvageau serves as Chief Security Officer and is responsible for a team of more than 300 security professionals performing operations, investigations, due diligence, and background vetting functions for the company’s businesses across North America, Europe, and Asia.

Dr. Wilburn is an associate professor of English at the University of New Hampshire, specializing in African American literature and culture, the poet Milton, and intertextuality studies; he teaches the art of critical thinking, reading, and writing through the science of literary study. ■