

DARKNESS

Amy Basbas*

M.A.T. Program for Teachers of English, Rivier College

I once wrote a poem
about freedom.
I spoke of America,
of tattered stars and stripes.
I thought it truthful,
and thus satisfied,
tucked it away.

But now I confess
that I was naive.
For freedom,
in truth,
would simply be closing my eyes
and seeing only darkness.

* Amy Basbas holds a B.A. in English from Assumption College, and will graduate from the M.A.T. program for teachers of English at Rivier College this summer. She currently teaches 10th and 11th grade English at Notre Dame Academy in Tyngsboro, MA.