

BUSINESS PROGRAM ADVISORY BOARD FORMED TO STRENGTHEN BUSINESS CONNECTIONS

(Rivier Today, Spring 2013)

A Business Program Advisory Board composed of business leaders and experts, including several Rivier alumni, was recently formed. The board will provide expertise and recommendations for enhancing current programs and introducing new programs in Rivier's Division of Business. The specific emphasis will focus on identifying a niche market within the Greater Boston area, as well as internationally with the online format.

The University currently offers undergraduate, graduate and professional studies business programs in on-campus and online formats.

With a demand for diverse business programs and courses, the advisory board will help develop the University's current offerings while also exploring the possibility of new programs and courses in the future.

"The Division of Business is looking forward to the expertise of, and collaborations with, each advisory board member for many years to come," said Dean and Assistant Professor of Business Administration Dr. Amir Toosi. "The Board members bring a diverse set of skills and knowledge to the table that will be beneficial in enhancing the University's business programs and course offerings." ■
